Inflation Rate Goes Up 0.7% Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Surging costs for home mortgages and auto insurance helped push consumer prices up sharply in November for the second consecutive month, the government reported

The Labor Department said retail prices rose 0.7%, matching October's rise, which was the third highest this year.

Grocery price increases slowed last month and gasoline prices declined, but those favorable developments were overshadowed by a 1.1% jump in the cost of services.

Administration economists had forecast a slight improvement at the retail level in November, but said the nation's basic inflation was still running in Consumer prices have risen at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 7.5% over the past three months, compared with a rate of 12.7% during the same period ending in November 1974.

James L. Pate, the Commerce Department's top economist, predicted that the current inflation rate, while still "unacceptably high," would continue to improve slowly next year. The administration has forecast an inflation rate of about 5% by the end of 1976.

In a separate report, the Commerce Department reported a decline in spending on durable goods and capital equipment which are necessary to generate new jobs and growth in the economy.

Economists consider stronger business spending essential to a continued recovery from recession. New orders by the nation's manufacturers declined 1.2%, or $519 million, to a total of $41.9 billion in November on a seasonally adjusted basis. Sales, also referred to as shipments, declined 2.7%, or $1.2 billion, to a total of $42.8 billion.

Detailing its price report, the Labor Department said the consumer price index last month stood at 165.6, or 7.3% higher than a year ago. That meant the same market basket of goods and services which cost $10 in the 1967 base period cost $16.56 last month.

Grocery prices were up 0.5% in November, following a 1.5% jump the previous month. Nonfood commodities rose 0.3%, the same as in each of the previous two months. The 1.1% rise in the cost of services was the biggest increase in the index since September 1974.

Government analysts blamed an 8.5% increase in auto insurance rates and a 1.6% hike in mortgage interest rates for the big increase in service costs. Higher property taxes, new car prices, telephone charges and continued increases in doctors' fees also accounted for part of the jump.

For non-food items, declines for used cars and gasoline were offset by price increases for clothing, new cars, fuel oil and household furnishings, the government said.

The average price of regular grade gasoline dropped 0.8% to 58.9 cents per gallon.

In a seperate report the Labor Department said increases in average hourly earnings and hours worked offset the rise in inflation. The report showed an increase of 0.7% in real spendable earnings for production workers.

Real earnings - or purchasing power adjusted for inflation and taxes - were up 3.9% over the year owing almost entirely because of the cut in federal income taxes last May.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said the statistics prove the tax cut was the underpinning of consumer buying power, which will now drop by more than a billion dollars if a tax increase is not stopped on Jan. 1.

Tennyson wrote: "God and nature met in light."

And Milton penned: "Hail, holy light! offspring of heaven first-born." Perhaps, English writer Leigh Hunt said it best of all when he declared: "Light is, perhaps, the most wonderful of all visible things."

While it is true that a Christmas light is as old as Christianity, the custom of displaying window candles is a strictly American tradition that originated in Boston back in 1893.

That year, a lonely candle sparkling in a student's third floor window on the west slope of Boston's historic Beacon Hill sent forth a ray that inspired first a neighborhood, then a city, and finally an entire nation with its beautiful symbolism of Christmas cheer.

The young man was Alfred Shurtleff. The candle was displayed in a window of his father's home at 9 West Cedar St. Shurtleff, who later became a Unitarian clergyman, said he was inspired by lighted Christmas trees placed close to windows in neighboring Beacon Hill homes.

"I was so cheered by the happy lights on the trees," he told an interviewer years later, "that I decided to place my own bright tribute to the Saviour in my bedroom window, Now, on Christmas Eve. I see the reflection of my own little candle in the windows of homes on every street I travel."

Back then, carolers strolled around Beacon Hill on Christmas Eve screnading the people who lived there. The carolers spotted the lonely candle in the window and, as they stopped at various houses, they told the occupants about it.

The following Christmas Eve, a handful of homeowners on West Cedar St. displayed wax candles in their windows for an hour. After that, the custom spread to adjoining Beacon Hill streets. Then the candles seemed to flicker out, and were displayed no more for a while. It must be remembered that these were wax candles, and the flames could easily ignite curtains or drapes.

However, in 1908, the window candles were revived again by a group of Beacon Hill residents who billed themselves as the Chestnut Street Christmas Association. The group distributed notices to all Beacon Hill Homes. The message read:

"In order to promote a spirit of good will and Christmas cheer, the undersigned request that you contribute to that end by placing lighted candles in the windows of your house fronting on the street between the hours of seven and ten o'clock of Christmas Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crain Mr and Mrs. Arthur Winslow Mr. and Mrs. Hollis French Mr. and Mrs. Roger S. Warner"

The following year, the same group issued another invitation, this time beautifully drawn in black letters. The idea began to catch on. Also, about that time, more and more homes were installing electricity. As a result, home owners were able to display safer electric candles in their windows.

And that is how the holiday tradition of exhibiting window candles started. Nowadays, you will find happy window lights sparkling in homes all over the world. Rev. Shurtleff's lonely candle did indeed have a

Employes Contradicted Colin Testimony from Meyer and three employes in his office contradicted Colin's statement that Meyer had invited him into the office. Deputy Assessor Barney Schrept testified that he was in Meyer's office with Meyer when Colin entered. Two other clerical workers said they did not see Colin and Fritz walk back to the private office together.

Meyer disputed much of Colin's testimony on the witness stand. Meyer said he merely provided Colin with a form, supplied him with general information on the procedures surrounding the form and computed a tax with figures supplied by Colin.

Meyer denied that he invited Colin back to his office, denied that he supplied Colin with numbers for the new form or even saw the original sales tax form, denied that he suggested filling out a new form.

Meyer also denied knowing that Colin had sold the 1974 car privately rather than used it as a trade in.

"I didn't know any figures or whether he sold the car. I didn't tell him what to put down," Meyer said.

Colin called Randolph Oldsmobile sales manager Tom Patok and asked him not to send in the dealers copy of original sales form, according to testimony.

"Don't send the papers in. We're going to handle them,'

Patok remembered Colin saying. But Patok took the question to his superior and was told the company had to send the original form into the County Motor Vehicle Department.

Lincoln Man Arraigned On Drug Counts

Jerry Davis, 20, of 2423 R St. was arraigned in Lancaster County Court Friday on three charges of delivering a narcotic.

Davis was arrested Thursday night at the Lincoln Work Release Center, where he was an inmate, after a 10-day investigation. Sheriff's officers said Davis had 12 ounces of morphine in his possession when he was arrested.

Offenses occurred on Dec. 15, 16 and 18, officers said.

Davis was sentenced to the Nebraska Penal Complex in April on a drug conviction. He is being held without bond at the complex awaiting a Dec. 39 preliminary hearing.

An Adversary Relationship?

After preliminary budget hearings this week, the University of Nebraska system finds itself in a somewhat enviable position. The Legislature's Appropriations Committee gave its tentative approval to a $30 million hike in general fund expenditures for 1976-77 over the current fiscal year and the university system would gain $11 million out of that amount.

To be sure, the university still has not won - in fact, it looks now as if it might lose - its fight for lump sum appropriations to be parceled out among the campuses by the Board of Regents. The appropriations committee has tentatively decided to stick with the current budgeting procedure of allocating specific dollar amounts to NU campuses and programs pending receipt of a report in January from NU President D. B. Varner on how the system would account for expenditures under the lump sum approach.

And the debate over requested faculty salary increases and specific program needs also awaits convening of the full Legislature in January.

But at this point, with hardly a skirmish fought, the university is ahead by $11 million general fund dollars with the annual budget-making process just barely under way. The situation is subject to change, of course.

But it is an enviable position the university, among all the state agencies, finds itself in, and one which its administrators can no doubt justify. Our intention here is not to comment on the merits of university budget requests but to call to attention again the curious adversary relationship which exists, doubtless unilaterally, between the university and Appropriations Committee Chairman Sen. Richard Marvel.

We don't have any quarrel with Marvel's responsibility to scrutinize in detail and demand justification for agency budget requests. That is what he is supposed to do as a representative of the taxpayer. But recent comments again indicate that he regards the state university as an enemy or at the very least a nuisance rather than an asset and a resource to be

At hearings this week Varner suggested that the collective bargaining movement among the NU faculty demonstrates deteriorating morale brought on by "systematic" underpayment of the

"If the faculty organizes, maybe the taxpayers will organize also," Marvel replied, "and that would be an interesting confrontation." The senator remarked at another point that it is questionable whether being competitive with salaries at other Big Eight institutions has anything to do with quality education.

In our opinion Marvel's comments are consistent with what we have seen of his attitude toward the university - a tendency to regard the taxpayer and the state university as being in a perpetual state of belligerency; as not having goals or aspirations in common. Further, he seems to reject any proposed measure of educational quality out of hand.

Perhaps a faculty salary comparison between NU and her sister institutions is not the ultimate and infallible test of a quality institution. But it is one measure, and there must be others upon which the budget-makers and the service-providers can agree. And surely Marvel, a professor himself, should be able to understand that faculty salary has at least something to do with the level of service the institution

Perhaps Marvel sees his responsibility as merely speaking for those Nebraskans who want the university to produce both good football and quality educational opportunities for their children but are eager to pay for only one.

If so, both the taxpayer and the university system are being shortchanged.

Reagan Rides Hot Air Balloon

The frantic campaign team bidding to keep Gerald Ford in the White House says Ronald Reagan's recent upsurge in the polls is due only to the big splash accompanying the actor's formal announcement of his candidacy. When Reagan becomes involved in substantive argument and has to address himself to real issues and come up with workable answers and solutions, then the President will regain the edge, Ford's people say.

We agree, up to the point at least that Reagan really hasn't said anything new so far, and has demonstrated that he is not well-enough informed to talk intelligently about a number of critical national issues except in general terms. What he has been saying has been said by every conservative almost since the Age of Roosevelt began and he doctors up too much of his public presentation with that "Eleventh Commandment" pap - a silly and unconvincing device if there ever was one.

One tangible thing the Reagan camp points to with pride is the former California governor's record of turning a state treasury deficit into a surplus of several hundreds of millions of dollars. If a governor did that in this state, he would be heavily criticized for keeping so much money laying around.

Ford's position comparative to Reagan may not improve as the campaign unfolds. but Ford's folk are right about one thing -Reagan's standing thus far is based largely on hot air. He hasn't been tested yet and the hard part of the campaign is still ahead.

Now, News-Show Biz

WASHINGTON - The line to look for a cousin, he said. between the news business and show business is fading fast.

They always have had an uneasy affinity. Although serious giggling is about. journalists might like to forget it, entertainment is one of the long shot," he has been quoted functions of a newspaper. And in as saying. And: "The important broadcasting, where entertain- thing to recognize is that no ment is what brings in the chips, harm has been done so far as the news is a tail that definitely does not wag the dog.

Occasionally something occurs to underscore the drift toward merger of the two. There was, for example, the megabuck sale of former President Nixon's recollections to TV talk show host David Frost, a victory for show biz if ever there was one.

Some of us saw another portent when the Hollywood types invaded the Washington Post's newsroom in search of surface auth inticity, at least, for the movie of the Watergate opus. Robert Redford and Dustin ment by Esquire magazine and Hoffman getting on-the-job the Xerox corporation that training as reporters or were Esquire would get for free a Post people learning how to be actors?

Now we have two more reminders of the merging.

The first is the Medlin caper, the CBS television network's journalism. In this one, an AWOL convict named Clarence Newton Medlin took the CBS news people for $9,000 by promising to lead a camera crew closed with such fanfare - in to the underwater resting place of James Hoffa, the missing former Teamsters boss.

A very mean customer, from all accounts, Medlin apparently terrorized CBS executives into paying off in advance on the promised scoop, which they hoped to air on "60 Minutes." They weren't too terrorized, though, to remember to pay through an intermediary, thus staying within their own rule against buying news directly. Once he got his hands on the money. Me in disappeared -

Like all victims of con-men, Richard S. Salant, president of CBS news, can't see what all the

We knew we were taking a public is concerned.

Now, that is real show business, with a touch of violence - Medlin was "the most terrifying guy I've ever seen." according to Salant and some laugh potential in the con of the worldly TV folks. Maybe the network can recoup by putting the whole thing on "Switch," its shoot- 'em-up about conartists.

The second reminder of the news - business - show - business "All the President's Men." Were merger was the proud announce-$55,000. 23-page article with more than $100,000 worth of advertising thrown in, all courtesy of Xerox.

The article, to appear in the February Esquire, is by latest venture into checkbook Harrison Salisbury, an eminent journalist, and it's about his travels through America. This is the first arrangement

- at least the first to be diswhich a private corporation sponsored a major journalistic project in a general circulation publication. The tradition has been that the editorial content of American newspapers and magazines is separated from the advertisers by a rickety but generally effective wall.

As the Xerox people point out, the arrangement is very similar to product sponsorship of television programming. Just why that was become a criterion for the print media is not explained.

☆ ☆ ☆ The of us in the newspaper events with amused tolerance, since we're not involved in either of them.

Will CBS never learn? we ask. The experience with Haldeman should have taught them that dollars don't have the same function in the news business that they have in show business.

Of course the newspaper business is not without its own little excursions into checkbook journalism, although the checks are usually of a size you can cash at the liquor store. But to their credit, a number of newspapers, including the New Orleans Times-Picayune and the Washington Post, refused to bite when they were approached by Medlin with his Hoffa scoop.

As for the Xerox-Esquire deal, it should be noted that it seems to be about as clean as such an arrangement can be. Xerox could have withdrawn its public sponsorship if it hadn't liked the Salisbury article, but it still would have had to pay for it and pony up the $100,000-plus worth of advertising. And Esquire could have printed the article.

The big question there is: Pure as that fransaction may be, does it open the door for less sanitary deals in which sponsorship is obscured and/or the sponsor exerts control over editorial content.

Well, maybe no harm has been done. CBS will survive its embarrassment and its loss; in fact it might even get some of its money back now that Medlin has been arrested. And Esquire's readers will get to read a firstclass article that might otherwise never have seen the light of day.

But for those of us who nervously scan the horizon for those clouds no bigger than a man's hand, something gray and menacing seems to be building up way off in the distance.

was still in MPLA hands. He told his questioners the 400 Cubans (mostly officers) who were with him aboard the "Vietnam" were told they would help free the black people from white oppression.

A young Cuban private was flown to Luanda six weeks ago and then dispatched to Lobito where he was captured. Another private was shipped aboard a Cuban vessel to Porto Amboim and later sent to Benguela to work on vehicles.

The amount and types of weapons supplied to Neto by Moscow and its bloc are certainly considerable. They have arrived by both ship and plane via Brazzaville, to the Cabinda enclave, or, increasingly, directly to Luanda. It is reported MPLA now has MIG fighters and Sa-7 anti-aircraft missiles but neither rumor is confirmed.

However, Neto is definitely equipped with Soviet amphibious armored cars, armored personnel carriers, 122mm. rockets, 75-, 82- and 107mm. recoilless guns, 37-mm, and 14.5-mm. anti-aircraft machine guns, various heavy and light machine guns, grenade launchers, mortars, assault rifles, submachine guns, rifles, grenades, anti-vehicle and antipersonnel mines.

 $\Delta \Delta \Delta$ More important is the fact that MPLA forces have been trained in handling this equipment and are usually led by commanders to whom Cuban officers are attached. This has enabled MPLA to fight a more effective campaign than its adversaries, although the forces are balanced in manpower.

MPLA probably maintains 10,-000 to 15,000 combat troops, FNLA about 10,000 (including two Zaire battalions with a few paratroopers), and UNITA about 5,000. The anti-MPLA coalition Considerable U.S. equipment has been sent in (primarily through FNLA via Zaire. But so far as one can discover, there are no Americans in Angola apart from a smattering of mercenaries. There is reason to believe the arms sent have not been efficiently handled. No more than three airfields in FNLA-UNITA hands are able to accept cargo planes up to and including the C-130, although the C-5 is too heavy.

At least one of these fields is believed to be supervised by South Africans. The extent and location of South African troops is hard to ascertain. Pretoria only admits to a limited force just above Southwest Africa's border which is authorized to engage in hot pursuit 200 miles northward. But there are certainly more troops and equipment - and far deeper in. MPLA has taken South African prisoners.

If the latest try for peace negotiations fails, the MPLA with superior material, advisers and defensive positions - could be in a favored position to launch deadly new drives after the rains. Moreover, Soviet diplomacy has effectively helped Neto gain diplomatic recognition by some 30 countries for his "People's Republic of Angola."

The FNLA-UNITA "People's Democratic Republic" isn't officially acknowledged by any nation yet. If the talks now scheduled by African leaders fail to produce peace, it is evident the delay will benefit Neto. It will allow him to re-equip and prepare for a spring offensive while effective help is still withheld from the alliance op-

There is a vision for you more than a year distant, the great crowd in the Capitol Plaza, the hushed silence settles down, the Chief Justice steps forward and the peanut farmer takes the oath of office as the 39th President of the United

Here's one reason: To the considerable surprise of almost everyone except Carter and those closest to him, he emerged in the lead in recent state caucuses. In January and the We were talking about issues first weeks in February there and what he intended to stress in will be six such state caucuses and Carter says he will come out first or second in all of them.

This will give him the momentum going into the first of the primaries in New Hampshire and Florida. Beating George Wallace in Florida will take some doing, but the peanut farmer who was also governor of his state — a Southern state that has led the way in the New South admits of no doubts.

 $\triangle \triangle \triangle$ There is another equally important reason: Carter believes that by the time the first four or five primaries are over, the field will have been narrowed to three, or at the most, four, other candidates.

The dropouts will have found it impossible to go on without money and organization. Late starters, they will have discovered that improvision and speechmaking are simply not he lacked two essentials: discipline and a real knowledge of the elective process. Carter has those two essentials.

He has been compared to John F. Kennedy both for his comparative youth — he is 51 — and for his single-minded concentration on his goal. The contradictions are many between the hard-headed, even ruthless politician and the warm, even sentimental, human being.

Traveling with one of Washington's ablest political reporters, he asked him about his children. It came out that the

After reading the comments made by J. C. Whitten (Dec. 6) I would say that the educational system has a big job on their hands. May I suggest a reading comprehension class at the Southeast Community College during evening hours? Perhaps Mr. Whitten could learn to read with greater understanding.

In his article, Senator Chambers did not say he "could have been elected governor except that he was known to have a negative attitude toward Nebraska football." But he stated that "I have been TOLD I lost my recent bid for governor . . . " And, there is a difference between the two.

But then that only proves the point he was making in the first place - the ugly aspect to the football syndrome, shallow, sterile public minds.

At least one of these fields is believed to be supervised by South Africans. The extent and location of South African troops is hard to ascertain. If the latest try for peace negotiations fails, the MPLA with superior material, advisers and defensive positions - could be in a favored position to launch deadly new drives after the rains. Moreover, Soviet diplomacy has effectively helped Neto gain diplomatic recognition by some 30 countries for his "People's Republic of Angola."

The FNLA-UNITA "People's Democratic Republic" isn't officially acknowledged by any nation yet. Georgia, Jimmy Carter. We were talking about issues and what he intended to stress in forthcoming speeches. I thought he said that he was preparing a particular statement to go into a speech the following week. No, he corrected me, that is for my inaugural address

You can't beat that for confidence and he seemed to speak with quiet sincerity. There is a vision for you more than a year distant, the great crowd in the Capitol Plaza, the hushed silence settles down, the Chief Justice steps forward and the peanut farmer takes the oath of office as the 39th President of the United

Visionary as it seems, I believe at the present moment that Carter has a better chance than any of the others. There are many reasons for this conclusion, but the primary one is the organization-in-depth that Carter initiated at least a year ago. He believes that effort will pay off

Here's one reason: To the con-(or is it 11 or 12 by now?) men at siderable surprise of almost contributions averaging between the Democratic starting gate is everyone except Carter and $30 and $40. But just as imporcertain to get the nomination. those closest to him, he emerged tant as the money is the stamina, That is the peanut farmer from in the lead in recent state the intensity of the drive, that caucuses. In January and the first weeks in February there will be six such state caucuses and Carter says he will come out first or second in all of them.

This will give him the momentum going into the first of the primaries in New Hampshire and Florida. Beating George Wallace in Florida will take some doing, but the peanut farmer who was also governor of his state — a Southern state that has led the way in the New South - admits of no doubts.

A Peanut Farmer Pushes On

I have observed over the years a number of presidential candidates. One was Wendell Willkie who rose like a rocket from comparative obscurity in 1940 as a Republican freeenterpriser to try to defeat Franklin Roosevelt, the New Deal and the drift toward war.

Willkie had great qualities but he lacked two essentials: discipline and a real knowledge of the elective process. Carter has those two essentials.

He has been compared to John F. Kennedy both for his comparative youth - he is 51 - and for his single-minded concentration on his goal. The contradictions are many between the hard-headed, even ruthless politician and the warm, even sentimental, human being.

Traveling with one of Washington's ablest political reporters, he asked him about his children. It came out that the reporter's youngest daughter has leukemia and the prognosis was bad. As they talked, tears came into Carter's eyes. He is either, said the reporter, a man of deep feeling or the most accomplished actor I've ever seen.

Without any reliance on his staff, Carter sent the little girl two Indian arrowheads dug up from his farm at Plains, Ga., suggesting in a handwritten letter that she give one to her older sister. ☆ ☆ ☆

There was a follow-up.

Because he started so early, but also because of his remarkable qualities, Carter has attracted unusual campaign followers.

One is Dr. Peter G. Bourne who, when Carter was governor. headed the state's Narcotics Treatment Program. This was in 1971, just after drugs had become a serious problem in Georgia's cities. Today Bourne devotes most of his time to the Carter campaign serving the candidate in a variety of ways.

Carter has tried to keep ahead of foreign policy developments through his association with the Tri-Lateral Commission. The Commission is made up of leaders of government and opinion in Western Europe, Japan and the United States.

Among other achievements is his rudimentary knowledge of nuclear physics acquired through command of a nuclear submarine and association in the Pentagon with Admiral Hyman

Coyote, The Villain

I enjoyed the Dec. 16 Star editorial, "Remember The Ringneck," on the declining pheasant population. Get the picture, Mr. Gipson?

The editorial hit the nail right on the head. However, in the remaining undercover lies a cunning predator, in wait for whatever meat he may take and devour. He hunts the plains and countryside the year around. His number has increased to the point of concern to all hunters and farmers. As long as the coyote population is NOT reduced, the ringneck cannot flourish One cannot imagine how thoroughly only one hunter could rid a section of land of game birds, rabbits, mice, even the fawn of deer, in just a year's time. In cover or no cover or a lack of cover, a resting ringneck is a sitting duck for a hungry coyote. And a hungry coyote is a

Linda Olig reports in the Wed., Dec. 17 edition of The Lincoln Star that the Salvation Army had collected $20,342 and that the KFOR Operation Santa Claus had collected $12,500. Together that makes $32,842 - a modest sum when compared to the $46,000-plus collected in less than a week for the NU marching band. Thus, it appears the plutocracy are more interested in Big Redneck and its brass band than they are in Christian charity.

The Bible states that it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than it is for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven. The monied aristocracy of Lincoln demonstrates why the Biblical statement would be true. It is about time they get out of the ivory towers and take a good look at themselves. ALLAN STIBAL

Football Syndrome

Lincoln, Neb After reading the comments made by J. C. Whitten (Dec. 6) I would say that the educational system has a big job on their hands. May I suggest a reading comprehension class at the Southeast Community College during evening hours? Perhaps Mr. Whitten could learn to read with greater understanding.

In his article, Senator Chambers did not say he "could have been elected governor except that he was known to have a negative attitude toward Nebraska football." But he stated that "I have been TOLD I lost my recent bid for governor . . . " And there is a difference between the two.

Brother Needs Positive Interest

By JOANNE FARRIS Question: "My brother has been a widower for almost a year and a half, and he still cries when his wife's name comes up in conversation. He even cries when my sister or I leave him after we have gone over and stayed a few days with him to look after his place and cheer him up a bit.

"We (my sister and I) think it's time for him to stop crying, especially since he seems so depressed and low afterwards, but we don't now how to stop him. Can you help?"

Answer: I agree with you that your brother seems to be prolonging his mourning in a way that does not seem to be doing him any good. However, there's no way anyone else can stop him from crying. Perhaps you and your sister are babying him a bit.

Have you been so tolerant and understanding of his feelings that he may even think you expect him to cry?

No one wants to be harsh on the poor man, for loss of a wife after many years is a dreadful trauma, but maybe you can discourage him from crying by more or less ignoring it.

"WHY DO THE HEATHEN RAGE?"

"O GOD, THE HEATHEN ARE COME INTO THINE

INHERITANCE; THY HOLY TEMPLE HAVE THEY

Christianity is a warfare: "Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on Eternal Life." 1st Timothy 2:12. When The Sword is drawn and used, The Sword of The Spirit which is The Word of God, somebody is going to get hurt; that is the way in warfare! If the Christian gets wounded, the Sun of Righteousness will arise for him with "Healing in His Wings." If he gets killed, he will be raised from the dead to die no more, and enjoy Everlasting Life!

The object of this article is to take advantage of this Christmas season to do a little fighting, to strike a blow at those heathen which "are come into God's inheritance and defiling His Holy Temple: "We refer to all those who reject The Virgin Birth and Diety of The Lord Jesus Christ! The Second Psalm identifies the heathen as those who fight and rage against God, and His Anointed, The Lord Jesus Christ. Probably the worst variety of heathen of all are those who have gotten into God's Inheritance,

His House, His Church, and especially in the Protestant Christian Ministry, and are there on the inside raging, and denying the Virgin Birth and Diety of The Lord Jesus Christ. They are very subtle and probably deceive most Church members by talking big about the Divinity of Christ, but hiding the fact that they reject Him as Virgin Born and God, as well as man. They take the position that the Angel Gabriel did not visit the Virgin Mary, or, if he did he lied when he explained to her: "THE

HOLY GHOST SHALL COME UPON THEE: AND THE POWER OF THE HIGHEST SHALL OVERSHADOW THEE;

THEREFORE ALSO THAT HOLY THING WHICH SHALL BE

BORN OF THEE SHALL BE CALLED THE SON OF GOD!

It is the conviction and observation of this writer, and therefore his testimony, that many, many so-called Protestant Christian preachers, professors, teachers, and other sorts of Church leaders are this type "heathen!" In fact, they are so numerous that they have about usurped authority in most of the great

Denominations which were produced and developed by men and women who believed The Biblical record of the miraculous

Virgin Birth of Christ, His Diety, and "every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God": that "GOD'S WORD IS not being recognized by most Church people. Jesus Christ said:

TRUE FROM THE BEGINNING; AND EVERY ONE OF HIS

RIGHTEOUS JUDGEMENTS ENDURETH FOREVER." Psalm 119:160. These heathen are highly esteemed among men,

"That which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God." Consider the context in which this statement occurs: It is found in the 16th chapter of Luke just a few verses before The Lord pulls back the curtain and gave us the picture of two souls in the spirit world: One was Lazarus in Abraham's bosom: the other was a rich man tormented in the flames of

At this season of the year when true believers in Christ seek to give thanks, honor, and praise for the miraculous coming of God in Christ to dwell among us, and to redeem us, should not every true believer be greatly concerned about the blasphemy of

"THE HEATHEN WHICH HAVE COME INTO GOD'S

There were two of Jesus disciples he called the devil, or satan, Judas and Peter! Judas was the traitor who sold out his relation with Christ for money. It is interesting to note that this traitor appeared to be greatly concerned about poor people, for he complained about the very expensive ointment poured on Christ and said it could have been sold for a large sum and given to the poor - one Scripture says he cared nothing for the poor, was a thief, carried the purse, and was interested in getting his hands on the money! Wonder if this record might be significant in such a time as ours, and might throw some light on the present day concern for the poor! John 12:4-6. Christ called Peter Satan and ordered him to "Get behind Me" because he rebuked Christ for saying He must go to Jerusalem and be put to death. Or, in other words He called him Satan for not believing what was written in God's Word. Christ did not argue the matter with him but ended the dialogue quickly by saying: "Get thee behind me, Satan:

for thou art an offense unto me: for thou savorest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men." Matthew 16:23. What would you think Christ would say of those who do not believe The Scriptures testimonies of The Virgin Birth, even predicting it about seven hundred years before the time? Surely He would at least say: "Thou art an offense unto Me: for thou savorest not the things that be of God, but those that be of

It is the duty and privilege of the Christian to try to convert the heathen. We should pity them, and earnestly pray for their salvation. However, we suggest that it is not wise to argue with them, but quickly utterly reject them: "GET OUT SATAN!" In order that their blood might not be on our hands we should watch and pray, calling on God Almighty to "CLEANSE HIS CHURCH" and cast the heathen out of His Inheritance. My vote will go to get such out of the pulpit, and out of the pew, unless there is genuine "repentance towards God, and faith towards the Lord Jesus Christ." "THE CHRIST OF THE SCRIPTURES!" If it was my duty to minister The Lord's Supper I surely would withhold it from such persons. John

Calvin said Satan's folks eating and drinking the emblems of The Lord's broken body and shed blood for the remissions of sins,

INHERITANCE AND DEFILING HIS HOLY TEMPLE?"

though one or two will make it clear to you that they are less comfortable with you as a widow than they were with you as a married woman.

The couples that have entertained you since your husband died have shown their regard for you. You can reciprocate by inviting them back. Perhaps you will do this at home. Some women find it pleasant to entertain several couples at a club dinner or even a dinner-dance. This can be easy and smooth.

The hostess makes the reservation and arranges to have the check and service charge or tip signed for her by the maitre d' or club manager. That way none of the men feels as if he should take the check, which can be embarrassing.

By accepting the widows' invitation to sat at their table you will be able to attend parties at the club anytime you feel like. Anytime we arrange things in life so we have free choice we are boosting our self-esteem. Some clubs title their widows' table as the "Merry Widows," and the women do seem to have the years. Many of them will be a very good time.

Not Plot, Led To ABP Troubles Omaha (AP) - Attorneys for the largest stockholder of American Beef Packers, Inc. American Beef to so cause and (ABP), once the nation's second largest slaughterer of cattle, and defraud himself for what perfor Frank R. West, the firm's president and founder, say it wasn't an illegal scheme which sent the firm into a Chapter 11 bankruptcy, as claimed by the government.

Rather, it was a sinking cattle market, rising interest rates, cost overruns on a new plant in Dumas, Tex., and an inability to secure long-term financing which sent the company into its downward spiral that led to the limited bankruptcy filing.

The arguments are contained in final briefs presented to U.S. District Judge Robert V Denney.

In his final argument, West's attorney, Arthur O'Leary of Omaha, called the charges nonsense. O'Leary asked why West, who is the largest single stockholder in ABP with about 350,000 shares, would defraud himself and the company he put so much work into. 'What did the defendant, Frank R. West, have to gain personally by the financial demise of American Beef Packers, Inc.?" asked O'Leary in his 29page closing statement. "Was there some personal benefit to pany needed cash to operate. If, plan and specifically intend to sonal gain?

"How could the filing for reorganization in Chapter XI help the defendant, Frank R. West, who had started the company in 1963, nursed it, saw it through a phenomenal growth to become the second largest packer in the country, only to have it go into reorganization in bankruptcy?"

O'Leary pointed out that the conspiracy charge, which was dismissed, "is an integral part of each of the remaining counts."

He reasoned that if the conspiracy charge was dismissed, so should the others on grounds that the government did not prove its case.

O'Leary also said there was no portion of the credit agreement between ABP and GECC requiring ABP to assign its accounts receivable directly to

"There was no attempt to defraud General Electric Credit Corporation. It was merely a use of cash at a time when the comin fact, this was even a violation of the credit agreement itself, either from a moral or a legal standpoint, there is no suggestion that, that could in and of itself be a crime," said O'Leary.

and to keep the company afloat.

charges, West also faces bad check charges filed by South Dakota authorities, conspiracy and fraud charges filed in Iowa, and a federal charge of conspiring to bribe a federal meat grader. The latter was filed in

Defense Argues Economic Ills,

Contrary to the government's allegations that the conspiracy culminated with the bankruptcy filing, O'Leary said West and other ABP officials frantically attempted to salvage the situation they found themselves in,

Representing ABP, Omaha attorney Lyle E. Strom followed much the same line as did O'Leary. He argued that the alleged scheme to defraud did not exist, and that the government "completely failed to establish or permit even an inference that there was an intent to defraud GECC or anyone

It also didn't help that government data on durable goods orders for November showed a 1.2 per cent decline, for the biggest drop in that economic measure since last March.

Analysts and investors seemed divided in their views of the surfacing of a new proposal to extend the 1975 tax cuts through the first half of the year.

Some saw the continuation of the tax cuts as necessary to give the economy enough stimulus to climb out of the recession. But others voiced concern over its on the theory that it would increase upward pressure on the cost of living and interest rates by swelling the federal deficit.

Dear Santa Claus,

By CYNTHIA JOHNSON Star Staff Writer

The small cardboard box is overflowing with dreams. Dreams clad in crayons and construction paper; decorated with care; scribbled with love - and all addressed to the jolly old man in the red and white suit.

"Dear Santa," the notes all begin.

So far, there are more than 300 of them in the speciallydesignated "Letters To Santa" box at Lincoln's main post office. And aside from the salutation, each letter is as different from the next as are the children who have written them.

Some ask for one gift, some for three or four, one child requested 35 - count 'em, 35.

'If You Can Afford Them'

At least one hopeful youngster has a conception of the price tag that accompanies Christmas. "These toys would be nice," he tells Santa after recording three or four suggestions, "if you can afford them."

But most of the letter writers have no compunctions about cost or quantity: "For Christmas I would like Evel Knievel, Superman, bathrobe, a cowboy shirt and a police suit and hat. That's all," writes one.

We who long ago had our turns at writing to Santa note with interest that children today are not much different than we were. They still ask for dolls, trucks, train sets, snow. But the names of the toys have changed.

Tiny Tears has been replaced by Baby Alive and Baby Thataway. Roy Rogers and the Lone Ranger have moved over to make room for the Six Million Dollar Man and G.I.

Good Boys And Girls

Many of Santa's fans still assure him that they have been good boys and girls during the past year. Some apologize for less-than-exemplary behavior.

"I have tried to be good but sometimes I goof up," confesses one.

"I'll try to be betr than I was befor," promises another. And, lest anyone think that children are not generous, the majority ask Santa to bring gifts not only for themselves.

"Bring Daddy a choo-choo train," writes one little girl. "He likes to play too."

"Be sure and take nice presents to all the other kids in the world," suggests another.

They inquire about Santa's health ("Have you gotten sick this year? Everyone but dad has here."), Mrs. Claus, the elves and the reindeer.

'Rudolph's' Paw Print

"How is Rudolph? Will he be making the trip this year?" "Can I have Rudolth's paw print?"

As if Santa were new this year, as if he had never made his rounds before, some of the children offer suggestions to help him out:

"Be careful on your trip." - / "I'll be at Grandma's house on Christmas Eve. Please come down her chimney!" Got that, Santa? And when Santa comes down those chimneys, more often than not, he'll find something left just for him. Milk and cookies most often; in one case "some cookies, a glass of H2O, a bologna sandwich and chips The mere presence of all those letters - written on regulation paper, letterhead stationery, office memorandums and computer print-out sheets - should be enough to insure Santa that someone out there knows he's for real.

But, just in case the old fellow needs reassurance, a few children timidly admit, "Santa, I believe in you." Yes, Santa, there is a Virginia. Lots of them.

Nebraska held a 34-24 edge on the boards, led by freshman Carl McPipe's 13. McPipe also scored 10 points in relief of both Cox and Harris, who got into foul trouble.

New Mexico State didn't insure its victory over undermanned Denver until the final few seconds in an exhibition of run-and-shoot basketball.

The Aggies fired 100 times at the basket, hit 40 of them for a cool 42 per cent while Denver was hitting half its shots.

The Pioneers who had only eight players available kept the margin close on several comebacks after falling behind by as many as 10 points several times during the game.

Dexter Hawkins paced the New Mexico State attack with 24 points and the Aggies had four others scoring in double figures.

The game's top scorer, however, was Denver's Steve Cribari, who had 28 points. Brad Hunt added 25.

The Pioneers made it difficult for New Mexico State to run its offense by using a zone defense most of the game.

NE Comeback Benches Papio By CHUCK SINCLAIR

With 1:29 remaining, Karthauser connected on both ends of the one and one free throw situation from Cissell's foul, and both technicals to put Northeast out in front 40-35, its biggest lead since an early 8-2

On the subsequent inbounds pass after the technicals, Papıllıon's Tom Szynskie came пр with a big steal and converted it to a lay-in to close back within three, 40-37, with 1:18 left.

But the Papillion bench, this time an assistant coach, was whistled with another technical for showing displeasure with the officials failure to call Northeast for a turnover around mid-court.

Oregon St. Nips Arizona State

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) -Host Kentucky roared to a 21point lead in the first half Friday night but had to fight for its life against Georgia Tech to take a 66-64 opening round victory in the 23rd Kentucky Invitational Tournament.

Oregon State, with Don Smith scoring 26 points, knocked off previously unbeaten Arizona State 87-83 in the other firstround game and meets Kentucky in Saturday's championship.

Smith scored 16 points in the first half as his Pacific-8 team built a 42-40 lead.

Starting Oregon State center Lonnie Shelton added 12 points bulged to a 78-69 lead in the last period.

Shelton finished with 14 points, while Rocky Smith had 15 and Carl Miller had 10 for Oregon State.

Nebraska Romps, to Face New Mexico State

Las Cruces, N. Mex. -Nebraska combined an excellent defensive performance with an equally outstanding shooting effort Friday night to defeat University of Pacific, 85-59, in the opening game of the Roadrunner Invitational basketball tournament.

Nebraska will now meet New Mexico State, a 104-100 winner over Denver in the second game, in the finals Saturday night.

A 10-point, 50-40 winner over Ralston, Lincoln East coach Paul Forch could afford to smile, but he couldn't help but shake his head.

comedy of errors.' The comedy was a two-way show, as the Spartans and Rams combined to commit 47 turnovers, 43 fouls and some frigid shooting in the Eastern I-80 Conference tilt. "That may be one of the worst games I've ever seen," Forch said. "We just couldn't get our offensive tempo going. We weren't patient at all.

Rough Spots

While East's offense hit a few rough spots, coach Ken Ahl's Ralston club almost hit rock bottom in the second quarter, when the Rams scored only one field

Some of the Rams' troubles were caused by a hustling East defense, which allowed Ralston to take only 8 shots from the floor in the second quarter as the Spartans took a 23-16 halftime advantage.

"Defensively, we played a good game," Forch said, "but we'd force the turnover and then blow a chance to cash in on some easy ones by kicking it away

Frustrated with the early slop py tempo, Forch went to his bench and substituted heavily throughout the game, as 10 Spar-

Abdul-Jabbar Tops Voting

New York (AP) - Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of the Los Angeles Lakers has replaced Detroit's Bob Lanier as the top votegetter among centers for the Western Conference All-Star team, the National Basketball Association announced Thursday.

Jabbar has 25,596 votes to 23,-376 for Lanier after two weeks of computerized fan balloting.

Fairbury - The halftime score was 30-30, and Fairbury outscored Crete 24-20 in the fourth quarter, but in between Crete blasted the Jeffs by a 21-13 third quarter margin which was tallied a game high 28 points. He was aided by senior guard Mark Erickson, who chipped in 19 points. The remainder of Crete's scoring was evenly distributed among four teammates.

Fairbury was able to mount a mild comeback in the fourth quarter, but Crete maintained its scoring pace to down the Jeffs.

Barrett Takes Post

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) -Ernie Barrett, relieved as athletic director at Kansas State University, has accepted a new post as assistant to the president for special projects, Dr. Duane Acker, K-State president, announced Friday night. "I am delighted that we are at the target point that we had in mind when the athletic administration realignment was announced last Tuesday," Acker said. "We now have Ernie's talents and strengths available to the total university. In fact, I have already discussed with Ernie several projects toward which he will apply his immediate efforts."

Barrett said, "I am pleased to accept President Acker's offer to work directly with him and at the same time to maintain a close relationship with K-Staters throughout the state and across the country. This new opportunity makes it possible for me to broaden my activities for Kansas State University."

In Barrett's new position he will maintain a close working relationship with the KSU endowment association which has the primary responsibility for fund raising at Kansas State University.

Barrett, 46, a native of Wellington, Kan., was an All-American basketball player for the Wildcats in 1951, and played two years for the Boston Celtics before returning to KSU as assistant alumni secretary. He was FEATURE RACES

NFL's Final Weekend To Produce 'Whens'

It's time for all the "ifs" to get turned into "whens." If the Miami Dolphins beat Denver on Saturday . . . if the Baltimore Colts can make it nine in a row on Sunday against New England ... if the Cincinnati

Bengals defeat Ean Diego . . .

With one weekend of regularseason play left, the National Football League playoff contenders are all but set. But nobody's sure which team is going to play where, or against whom. That's what some of these final 13 games are all about.

For the rest of them, it's time to reach that 1,000-yard rushing plateau, to try and break a league record or two, to make that last big effort that'll help the 1976 salary demands, to improve the team's place a bit in the standings . . . or just to get this season over with,

The Dolphins can still win the American Conference East title, They can also squeeze into the playoffs via the AFC wild-card route. But their chances of

Thus, in effect, it's all up to Miami. If the Dolphins lose, Baltimore automatically wins the AFC East title and Cincinnati just as automatically gets the conference wild card.

"You'd really be sick if you lost on Saturday and then either New England or San Diego won," says Dolphins Coach Don Shula. "We've got to play it like everything depends on the game. That's what I've got to sell the squad on."

In Saturday's other games, Minnesota is at Buffalo-with Fran Tarkenton still trying to surpass Johnny Unitas' record of 290 career touchdowns-and Super Bowl IX champion Pittsburgh is at Los Angeles in a game which many tans believe will be a preview of the matchup in Super Bowl X.

G&P Budget Reduced

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission budget requests for fiscal year 1976-77 took a considerable cut via recommendations of the legislative Budget Committee's hearing Thursday.

The G&P budget request called for an overall $5.2 million, including a $2.3 million request for parks operation and improvement.

Last year's budget was $3.3 million with $1.8 million going to parks, but the state parks system was forced to close down nearly two weeks early because of unsufficient funds, according to assistant director Dale Bree, in charge of parks.

Despite support from the Nebraska Recreation League, a 2,200 family camping organization, the Budget Committee sliced the requested $2.3 million to a recommended $1.9 million, an increase of only $100,000 over last year. Bree indicated operating costs for the commission increased some 44 per cent from last year.

The fund budget approval will be made by a vote of the entire legislative body.

Young Hunters Need 'Degree'

By United Press International Starting in 1976, graduation from a State Game Commission Hunter Safety course will be required of young hunters in Nebraska.

The law, applicable to those 12 to 15 years of age, will have the effect of making the youth's certificate of graduation his hunting license.

Under the same law, it will also be illegal for a youngster under 12 to hunt without the supervision of a licensed adult.

So far, approximately 2,000 volunteer instructors have trained about 20,000 youngsters since a hunter safety law was passed in 1973.

The commission estimated another 20,000 will need hunter safety training before next fall's

Bjorn Borg and Jan Kodes gave Sweden and Czechoslovakia a 1-1 the Friday after the first two singles matches in the 1975 Davis Cup final. Sweden's Borg beat Jiri Hrebec, 6-1, 6-3, 6-0. Czech Kodes defeated Ove Bengston, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4. The U.S. and Mexico are tied 1-1 after opening matches in a 1976 Davis Cup elimination series. Jimmy Connors of the U.S. struggled past Marcelo Lara, 6-2, 6-1, 3-6, 4-6, 7-5. Mexico's Raul Ramirez whipped Brian Gottfried, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2. Top-seeded Argentina and fourth-seeded U.S. won quarter-final matches Friday in Sunshine Cup tennis at Miami Beach.

OTHER SPORTS

The three-year-old sports television anti-blackout law will expire, at least temporarily, Dec. 31 because House and Senate conferees have failed to agree on a new version, congressional sources said Friday.

Mississippi State University Athletic Director Charles N. Shira, who underwent surgery after a cerebral hemorrhage last month, has been discharged from a Jackson, Miss, hospital.

Dan Carroll of Milwaukee and Shella Young of Detroit, both members of the 1972 Olympic squad, skated to victories Friday in the first day of tryouts for the 1976 Olympic speed skating

Bobby Cochran of Richmond, Vt., ended a European stranglehold on the pro ski circuit this season by capturing the giant slalom Friday to open the second leg of the Aspen Cup. Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League since 1946, said Friday he may be elevated to the post of chairman of the league's Board of Governors by next June in order to make room for a new president.

NFL's Final Weekend To Produce 'Whens'

By Associated Press It's time for all the "ifs" to get turned into "whens."

If the Miami Dolphins beat Denver on Saturday . . . if the Baltimore Colts can make it nine in a row on Sunday against New England . . . if the Cincinnati Bengals defeat Ean Diego . . .

With one weekend of regularseason play left, the National Football League playoff contenders are all but set. But nobody's sure which team is going to play where, or against whom. That's what some of these final 13 games are all about.

For the rest of them, it's time to reach that 1,000-yard rushing plateau, to try and break a league record or two, to make that last big effort that'll help the 1976 salary demands, to improve the team's place a bit in the standings . . . or just to get this season over with.

The Dolphins can still win the American Conference East title. They can also squeeze into the playoffs via the AFC wild-card route. But their chances of either are rated as rather cinnati contests, Sunday's slender. To do so, they must whip Denver-which is expected—and either Baltimore or Cincinnati must lose-which

Thus, in effect, it's all up to Miami. If the Dolphins lose, Baltimore automatically wins the AFC East title and Cincinnati just as automatically gets the conference wild card.

'You'd really be sick if you lost on Saturday and then either New England or San Diego won," says Dolphins Coach Don Shula. "We've got to play it like everything depends on the game. That's what I've got to sell the squad on."

In Saturday's other games, Minnesota is at Buffalo-with Fran Tarkenton still trying to surpass Johnny Unitas' record of 290 career touchdowns-and Super Bowl IX champion Pittsburgh is at Los Angeles in a game which many fans believe will be a preview of the matchup in Super Bowl X.

Pittsburgh, the league's winningest team at 12-1, has won 11 consecutive games in clinching the AFC Central crown. Los Angeles is working on a fivegame streak and needs the victory to assure itself of an opening-round home game in the NFC playoffs.

Buffalo's O.J. Simpson already has the NFL rushing title in the bag with 1,760 yards. He needs 240 more-a highly improbable feat - to surpass 2,000 yards again. Along with Tarkenton, the Vikings have another record-chaser in running back Chuck Foreman. He's gunning for an NFC "Triple Crown," the scoring, receiving and rushing titles. G&P Budget Reduced

The Nebraska Game and Parks Commission budget requests for fiscal year 1976-77 took a considerable cut via recommendations of the legislative Budget Committee's hearing Thursday.

The G&P budget request called for an overall $5.2 million, including a $2.3 million request for parks operation and improve-

Last year's budget was $3.3 million with $1.8 million going to parks, but the state parks system was forced to close down nearly two weeks early because of unsufficient funds, according to assistant director Dale Bree, in charge of parks.

Despite support from the Nebraska Recreation League, a 2,200 family camping organization, the Budget Committee sliced the requested $2.3 million to a recommended $1.9 million, an increase of only $100,000 over last year. Bree indicated operating costs for the commission increased some 44 per cent from last year.

The fund budget approval will be made by a vote of the entire legislative body.

Young Hunters Need 'Degree'

By United Press International Starting in 1976, graduation from a State Game Commission Hunter Safety course will be required of young hunters in Nebraska.

The law, applicable to those 12 to 15 years of age, will have the effect of making the youth's certificate of graduation his hunting license.

Under the same law, it will also be illegal for a youngster under 12 to hunt without the supervision of a licensed adult.

So far, approximately 2,000 volunteer instructors have trained about 20,000 youngsters since a hunter safety law was passed in 1973.

The commission estimated another 20,000 will need hunter safety training before next fall's seasons.

Bowl Changes East Tourney

The Lincoln East High School basketball tournament underwent a time change Friday to permit University of Nebraska football fans a chance to view the Fiesta Bowl game matching NU and Arizona State next Friday. Next Friday's basketball pairings match the East girls against the Millard girls at 9:30 a.m. and the East and Millard boys at 11:30 to permit viewing of the 2 p.m. Husker contest on national television. Friday night's pairings between the Northeast and Ralston girls and boys remain at 5:30 p.m. and 7:30, respectively. Saturday's games have the girls' losers playing at 1:30 p.m., boys' losers at 3:30, girls' winners at 5:30 and boys' winners at 7:30 inthe East High gym.

Twelve Receive

Commissions

Twelve cadets and midshipmen from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln ROTC units received their commissions as United States military officers in a ceremony Friday, in the Nebraska Union.

Speaker at the joint Army, Navy and Air Force commissioning exercise was Vice Admiral Robert Y. Kaufman, deputy director, Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff, Strategic Air Command. Commissioned Second Lieutenants in the U.S. Army were Robert L. Fuller of Omaha, Ronnie Hindmand of Lincoln, Gary E. Pelcak of Lincoln, Charles B. Pelto of Lincoln, Steven A. Wendell of Stromsburg.

Commissioned Ensigns in the U.S. Navy were Warren C. Honaker of Papillion, Edward O. Murphy of Lincoln, Eric S. Petersen of Newport, R.I., Michael P. Ragole of Omaha.

Commissioned Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps was Karen J. Hunt of Beatrice.

Commissioned Second Lieutenants in the U.S. Air Force were Patrick J. Hoy of Falls City and Jan M. Joseph of Lincoln.

expire, at least temporarily, Dec. 31 because House and Senate conferees have failed to agree on a new version, congressional sources said Friday. Mississippi State University Athletic Director Charles N. Shira, who underwent surgery after a cerebral hemorrhage last month, has been discharged from a Jackson, Miss., hospital. Dan Carroll of Milwaukee and Sheila Young of Detroit, both members of the 1972 Olympic squad, skated to victories Friday in the first day of tryouts for the 1976 Olympic speed skating

Bobby Cochran of Richmond, Vt., ended a European stranglehold on the pro ski circuit this season by capturing the giant slalom Friday to open the second leg of the Aspen Cup. Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League since 1946, said Friday he may be elevated to the post of chairman of the league's Board of Governors by next June in

United Airlines strike which grounded tens of thousands of Christmas travelers was tentatively settled Friday, and the carrier said its planes would probably be flying again by Mon-domestic carrier, said that, if the new contract is ratified on Sunday, 36% of the airline's flights would be resumed by Monday and 80% by Tuesday. The full schedule would be restored by Wednesday, the day before United reservation clerks began accepting reservations for Monday flights at mid-afternoon Friday. Telegrams went out to 5,250 pilots and 7,000 flight attendants telling them to be prepared to return to work.

United officials had not decided on all of the flights to be resumed Monday, but said among them would be planes headed for Hawaii.

The settlement with the International Association of Machinists (IAM) was announced after an all-night negotiating session with federal mediators.

Meanwhile, officials at TWA in Omaha and Frontier in Lincoln are urging people who are on standby to go to the airport for possible seats.

United's 1,400 daily flights have been grounded since midnight Dec. 5, when 16,700 mechanics, food service workers and flight dispatchers walked off their jobs.

W.J. Usery Jr., the government's top labor mediator, announced the agreement Friday morning. "We are hopeful that the agreement will be ratified Sunday," he said.

Locals of the union scheduled ratification votes for Sunday. Union leaders recommended its approval, and ratification was almost certain. An IAM spokesman said the outcome of the vote would be known a few hours after ballots are taken around the country.

Officials declined to disclose terms of the agreement. The previous top scale for United mechanics was $7.84 an hour and ramp workers were paid $6.40 hourly.

United carries a daily average of 90,000 passengers. All have been forced since Dec. 5 to seek out other airlines or not travel at all during the peak holiday United had cancelled all flights through Jan. 5, and until Friday union officials said they expected a long strike. Until Usery convened the all-night session Friday negotiations had been broken off since Dec. 11.

Meanwhile, in Miami, another airline strike apparently moved a step closer to settlement. U.S. District Judge C. Clyde United's 1,400 daily flights have been grounded since midnight Dec. 5, when 16,700 mechanics, food service workers and flight dispatchers walked off their jobs.

W.J. Usery Jr., the government's top labor mediator, announced the agreement Friday morning. "We are hopeful that the agreement will be ratified Sunday," he said.

Locals of the union scheduled ratification votes for Sunday. Union leaders recommended its approval, and ratification was almost certain. An IAM spokesman said the outcome of the vote would be known a few hours after ballots are taken around the country.

Officials declined to disclose terms of the agreement. The previous top scale for United mechanics was $7.84 an hour and ramp workers were paid $6.40 hourly

Youth in Action 'Flower' Is Back To Earth

By PATTY BEUTLER

Star Staff Writer Last week Michelle Piranio was a snowflake and a flower. This week she's back in class at the practice bar.

One of a handful of Lincolnites to dance in "The Nutcracker Suite" with the Omaha Ballet Company, Michelle is still savoring her first taste of professional dancing.

The late hours, dress rehearsals, costume fittings and excitement backstage more than made up for the weary body and blistered feet, she said.

Michelle, the daughter of Mrs. Marilyn Piranio, 854 S. 39, commuted to Omaha every Saturday is not exactly a world beater ☆ ☆ ☆ ARIES (March 21-April 19): Fresh approach can enable you to enlarge, broaden scope and gain greater cooperation, recognition. Bring forth natural qualities of independence. Emphasis on security, domicile, personality, coming to terms with older individual.

Aries usually leads in a forthright, direct manner. But the native has a "weak spot" where Pisces is concerned. Aries feels, very often, that Pisces has a mysterious secret. With Pisces, Aries gets second emotional wind, slows pace, asks questions and looks for reassurance. Pisces can make money with Aries—Aries enters world of illusion with Pisces. The combination can be constructive, but is not exactly a world beater.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Study Aries message for valid nints. Build on solid base. Be more aware of security requirements. Cancer, Leo and Aquarius could be in picture. Ideas can be developed. You can submit manuscripts, concepts, formats. Social encounter can leed to professional assignment.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20):
Extravagant gesture could be highlighted. Have fun without smashing budget. You do face yourself in morning!
Another Gemini — and a Sagittarian — could figure prominently. You could coate missing article, object. You will add to possessions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cycle is such that many are impressed, drawn to you. You could attract investors. Now is time to take inventory, to check legatinancial status of associates, potential customers. Be confident enough to state case in direct manner.

Wishing Well.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you's measage every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 4 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper lett-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST A By SIDNEY OMARR A

Saturday, December 20, 1975

Aries usually leads in a forthright, direct manner. But the native has a "weak spot" where Pisces is concerned. Aries feels, very often, that Pisces has a mysterious secret. With Pisces, Aries gets second emotional wind, slows pace, asks questions and looks for reassurance. Pisces can make money with Aries—Aries enters world of illusion with Pisces. The combination can be constructive, but is not exactly a world beater. 26 Transmit 32 Blunder * * * 33 Italian ARIES (March 21-April 19): Fresh approach can enable you to enlarge, broaden scope and gain greater cooperation, recognition. Bring forth natural qualities of independence. Emphasis on security, domicile, personality, coming to terms with older individual. poet 36 Bacteriologist's wire

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Study Aries message for valid hints. Build on solid base. Be more aware of security requirements. Cancer, Leo and Aquarius could be in picture. Ideas can be developed. You can submit manuscripts, concepts, formats. Social encounter can lead to professional assignment. 25 Lindbergh's 38 Drinking vessel

GEMINI (May 21-June 20):
Extravagant gesture could be highlighted. Have fun without smashing budget. You do face yourself in morning!
Another Gemini — and a Sagittarian — could figure prominently. You could iccate missing article, object. You will add to possessions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Cycle is such that many are impressed, drawn to you. You could attract investors. Now is time to take inventory, to check legal-inancial status of associates, potential customers. Be confident enough to state case in direct manner.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Be ready for change of concept — some around you will be restless, may talk for sake of hearing their own voices. What you seek may be obscured by curtains, could be behind the scenes. Creative individual becomes ally.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Key Is organization. Get things in order, including priorities. Capricorn, Cancer could figure prominently. Friend wants to discuss personal affairs. Be interested without interfering with family situation. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Slow pace — structive results. Accent on goal, career, ability to ingrafiate yourself with one you respect. Pisces, Virgo could be in picture. Favorable legal decision is in offing. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Obtain valuable hint from Libra message. You get what you need if you don't attempt to force issues. Communication, message or call could be "garbled." Give yourself time to analyze, to put together puzzle pieces.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21); Finish pruject. Find ways of obtaining better display, distribution. Creative resources come to forefront. Element of timing is on your side. You can be atright place — and receive credit for what you do. Aries, Libra figure prominently. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Be willing to get to heart of matters. Consult with partner, mate, another individual who is close enough to be frank concerning legal rights and permissions. Do plenty of listening. Patience, observation are twin allies.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Light touch wins. Means avoid heavy-handed procedures. Accent is on service, employment, constructive health patterns. A relative, recently "betrayed," has voracious appetite and wants you to partake of gargantuan proportions. Be diplomatic, but sensible. Say, "No, thank you!"

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Highlight sociability, versatility and humor. Check directions, instructions — be aware of travel and career opportunities. Gemini, sagittarius could figure prominently. Give full play to creative resources. Welcome change from status quo.

IF DEC. 20 IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are moody, creative, sensitive, musical, are completing important phase of your life, have recovered from emotional trauma suffered in 1973. Fresh start shown for 1976 — July will be most significant month. Cancer, Capricorn persons play important roles in your life. Last month you were pulled in two directions simultaneously. Now, however, you are beginning to see, to perceive and to know that proverbial "second chance" is upcoming.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
